Open Access

Free Workshops in Brierley Hill !

Don't forget our Easter Break. This April, we have a three week Easter Break and therefore, an Open Access Break Too!

However, if you are aged between 14-25 and have an interest in Theatre and acting, then come to one of our FREE Open Access drama workshops, led by one of NYT's Associate Artists. Come along to the Brierley Hill Methodist Church on this date:

Saturday 24th April, 10am-1pm

We are currently working on...

- Associate Artist Training Weekend. We are currently looking at companies in the Midlands to attend our Associate Artist Training Weekend taking place in May 2010.
- Our Knife Crime Awareness Project, which will take place next year in Birmingham.
- 'Ghost Office' - This Years Summer Community Project: a site specific piece of interactive theatre: looking into how we use empty spaces, and the stories people have left behind.
- 'Perfect Tree' a three-year project commencing in October 2010. What impact do we have on our environment, and how does this affect our community?

March 2010

Last month:

- Playing Up 1: Brierley Hill had their informal performance assessment at the Methodist Church. Well Done!
- Open Access free drama Workshops led by Kane Husbands and Katie Jones looked at Ensemble, Group Work and Physical Theatre.

Playing Up 1

Last month our Playing Up 1 Students completed their second performance assessment. However, this month, they will start to look into improvisation and devising skills; working towards their final piece at the Beginning of June. Exciting News!

Creative Pathways Training Weekend

If you are an NYT Member and are interested in the roles of a Creative Assistant, Volunteer or Course Assistant: get in touch and see if you can attend our April Training Weekend.

Congratulations and Thank You!

- Congratulations to our local members undergoing an Easter Course, this Easter Holiday.
- For all of those who auditioned for our intake auditions: results will be coming soon. Good Luck
- Thank You to the Sheldon Trust for their support with our Summer Community Workshops and Performance for the next two Years!
